Nothing hits harder than childhood nostalgia. Think school time shenanigans without a care in the world. Designers are revisiting their childhoods with pieces that transform cherished memories into bijoux. From Marie Lichtenberg's Magic 8 Ball offering whispers of fortune, to Nadine Ghosn's Crayola-inspired bangles, there is a new-found whimsy and wonder in our adornments. It's a reminder that fine jewellery doesn't always have to take itself too seriously.
